

Daybreak Gathering, 3/14/24

Be About People, upcoming RR article by Lisa

Our final Daybreak Gathering will look a little different. We will stay in large group longer and cover a few questions. Then we will go to our small groups for an abbreviated time to discuss the assignment. Finally, we will meet back in large group to take communion together.

Large Group Questions

- 1) What's something the Lord has used to encourage you through this group?
- 2) What is a topic we have discussed that has changed your perspective or deepened your understanding on a matter?
- 3) Have you learned something new in our group that has allowed you to help others?

Be About People Questions

- 1) Would you consider yourself an about-people person? Does this extend outside of your family and circle of friends?
- 2) Does your heart beat more for evangelism or discipleship, or would you say you are passionate about both equally?
- 3) How do you most often use your gift, whether evangelism or discipleship, in church service and daily life?
- 4) Do you have opportunities to interact with the lost often?

Disciplers

- 1) If you have a heart for discipleship, would you say you struggle with evangelism and feel inadequate?
- 2) Why do you think people who do know the truth of the Gospel might struggle with sharing what they know?
- 3) Do you have "tools" you use, things you've found over the years to help you kick off a conversation?
- 4) Do you often feel guilty over "failed" conversations with people who need Jesus?

Evangelists

- 1) Would you say you are fairly eloquent in sharing Jesus with unbelievers?
- 2) Is it a foreign concept to you that others might struggle with evangelism?
- 3) Can you think of specific ways you communicate with unbelievers that might be helpful to share with those who are intimidated by evangelism?
